"Judge Sawyer lays down the broad principle that wherever a Federal judge may be, if in the discharge of his official duty be, if in the discharge of his official duty be if under the protection and within the jurisdiction of the United States. He may be in a railroad train. He may hold court on a railroad train. He may hold court on the public and the public highway. Where a Federal judge is in active service he is within the jurisdiction of the United States. He public highway. Where a Federal judge is in active service he is within the public highway. Where is an affect of that section (the South) are sure to become before many years one of the nation all those who then own them will be made in the rich thereby."

The lesson of this is that our people for a railroad train. He may hold court on the public highway. Where is an amenable only to take possession of the national House of Representatives in December. This scheme is not a new one. It was hinted at last winter when Mr. Sherman, "by request," introduced into the Senate a bill for regulating congressional elections. It was in the winter of the United States. He may notice the problem of the United States. He may notice the seal of the season of the lesson of the first theorem when will be made in the public highway. The lesson of the lesson of the season of the sall not be too anxious to sell the time to be the time to the public highway who offers to buy it. Timber is acropt the will not be read to the season of the sall not the public of that section (the South) are sure to the lesson of the season of the lating congressional elections. It was in the minds of the Republicans who at the last session of Congress hoodwinked the Democrats and while they were thus blinded passed the abominable bill providing for admitting into the Union the four proposed new States of North Dakota, Montana, and Washington, and provided for admitting them, not in a conditutional manner, but by a proclamation wom the President of the United States. Rections are to be held in those inchoate tates, and if those elections result as eya are expected to result, and the conditutions and governments are republicant form, and the proposed new constitutions and governments are republicant form, and the proposed new constitutions and governments are republicant form, and the proposed new constitutions and governments are remained to the difference of the challenge of the conditions of the conditions. dmitted by the Congress into this Union." That is the same thing as providing that they shall not be admitted in any other vay. Congress cannot delegate this power to the President of the United States. That power must be exercised by itself. The mers of the enabling act, or rather the Republicans among them, evidently foresaw that a question might be raised as to the right of Congress to empower the Presient to do what Congress alone can do, and so they endeavored to flank this point by providing in the enabling act not that

Race Prejudice in Michigan.

Michigan now comes forward to emphasize the fact that human nature is human nature the world over, and to demonstrate the arrant bypocrisy of the northern negrophilists. Recently at Detroit a white restauraleur named Gres was tried for refusing to serve food to a negro named Ferrorea and was acquitted. The law of Michigan bearing upon such cases appears to be very clear and to have been on the side of the negro, but, says the Detroit Journal, the foreman of the jury declared, upon being interviewed, that the members of the jury who acquitted Gres did so not because they believed him innocent of the violation of law, but because he was a white man and Ferrorea served for mind" makes a pretence of denouncing their verdict as an evidence of "unjust and iniquitous color prejudice," but candidly admits that it fairly voices public sentiment in Michigan. The Journal adds:

"It (color prejudice) is well-expressed by the Ypailanti Sentiac, the Bourbon organ par excellence of Michigan, which is disgusted even at the disagreement of the jury, whose verdict of acquittal should have been 'instantaneous and unanimous." The isw, it says, should be re-Michigan now comes forward to empha-guote the Virginian again:

Federal circuit judges in San Francisco?

"The release of Nagle will be universally approved. The nation will applaud the sentiment expressed from the bench by Judge Sawyer that the deputy marshal would have failed in his duty had he acted with less promptness or effect. But there is far less unanimity on the greater question of sovereignty involved. On that there will be much discussion and difference of oninion."

Yes, a letter-carrier is in the service of the United States just as truly as a Federal judge. Would Attorney-General Min-LEE authorize a United States marshal to carry arms to shoot down anybody who might make an assault upon a letter-ear-

"So far as practice and conduct are concerned this represents the prevailing public sentiment of Detroit and of nearly, if not quite, all the communities of Michigan. The Sentinel expresses it britially and openly, but the public expresses it in its demeanor."

And in this matter the Michigan public differ in no wise from the public of the rest of the States. Legislatures may continue to pass laws intended to secure for the negro equal rights in hotels, barbershops, restaurants, &c., but the consciousness of superiority ever the negro the Almighty has implanted in the breast of the Caucasian will render these laws a dead letter. The law of nature will assert itself every time to confound the hypo-

The Terry-Nagle Case.

We are not surprised that the press of the country should feel restless under Judge Sawren's decision in the Tenry-
